LETTER

Of a Protestant Gentleman to a Lady revolted to the Church of ROME.

Madam,

AND are you indeed got into the onely Catholick Church?

And are you sure the Men you have lately believed have not deceived you, as you fancy we

have

have done? (for tho you may be so Charitable, as to think, that we have not intentionally couzened you, yet since you cannot suppose Us to be both in the Right, you must necessarily conclude, that we have at least ignorantly abused and imposed upon you) and did you ever rightly consider what a truly Catholick Church does mean? Men of Sense and Reason always believed, that a Church which hold's the truly Catholick Faith is a true and sound Member of the Catholick Church, and dares malice it self say, that we do not hold the Apostles, the Nicene, and Athanasius's Creed! The Church of R O M E her self self-confesses, that these Creeds contain the truly Catholick Faith : And most certainly when the Nicene Council was celebrated, and in Athanasius's time that Church was counted a sound Member of the Catholick Church, that held that Catholick Faith, which is expressed in those Creeds; and do we not hold that Faith? do we not stand up at it to express our readiness to defend it? and what have we done, that we must not be counted a Catholick Church? Is it because we will not receive things which the Church of Rome hath since added to the Catholick Faith? Is it because we will not admit of the Doctrines

which that Church was first induced to believe by the darkness and ignorance of the Ages it lived in, and at last loath to part withal for fear they should be thought to have been so long in an Error? Is it because we will not yield to things which we apprehend to be directly against the Word of God and destructive to that Catholick Faith the Christian World hath professed in all Ages? Is it because we will not deceive the People of the Cup in the Blessed Sacrament, which Christ intended as a mighty comfort to them? Is it because we will not believe the Miracle of Transubstantiation against four of our Senses and reason

Reason, and Scripture to boot.
 Is it because we will not suffer the Worship of God, or that which is very like it to be given to Creatures, because of the very appearance of the evil of Idollatry, which we are commanded to shun, as much as Idollatry it self? Is it because we will not believe a Purgatory fire, which cleanseth little, but peoples Purfes of their money? Is it because we will not indulge the Pride and Arrogance of a Man at Rome, who having first wheadled the Christian Princes out of their means and Power, hath at last made that Power and Riches hereditary to his Successors, under a pretence of a Legacy from Christ?

Is it because we will not believe contrary to the Apostles Rule, that publick Prayers which are intended for the benefit and understanding of the Multitude, must be said in aⁿ Tongue unknown to the People? These must certainly be the reasons, why we cannot now passe with the Church of R O M E for members of the Catholick Church? That these things were not in the Ancient Catholick Creeds, I hope, you are convinced; for you have read them over, and found none of all these Additions in them: And now I beg of you, in the name and by the mercy of that Jesus in whom you beleive,

to judge, which is most likely to be the truly Catholick Church, our's or their's? our's that keeps to the truly antient Catholick Faith, or their's that hath added things contrary to Scripture and reason and antiquity? And dare you continue in a Church where your very Communion with it, is an approbation of their Actions which are directly contrary to the command of Christ? can there be any thing more contrary to it than their denying the Cup to the Laity? And when you receive the Sacrament but in one kind, contrary to Christs command, do not you Sin and allow of the Sin of that Church you are in? Is not not your disobedience to Christs Command a Sin, or can you imagine that you are more obliged to Obey men than Christ himself? You confess you dare not live in any one Sin; But how dare you live in this Sin? You talk of the benefit of Confession and absolution, when that very Priest to whom you confess, and who absolves you, lives in that Sin you are guilty of, and neither absolves himself nor you from it, and you both continue in it, as if the Blind had a mind to lead the Blind? How dare you act thus against your Reason and Conscience? Are you not affraid when you are going to confess, that God will laugh at

at your Mock Confession, since you neither confesse that Sin of living contrary to Christs Command about the Cup, nor are willing to part with it? Tell me not here that you drink the blood of Christ in eating his Flesh, if so, to what purpose doth the Priest Consecrate Wine for himselfe, if he drinks the blood of Christ in eating his Flesh; But suppose the Bread were transubstan-tiated into the Flesh and Blood of Christ, you know that the not giving the Cup of Blessing to those that come to the Lords Supper, is contrary to Christs institution, who distinctly consecrated the Cup, and gave that

to his Disciples, who were representatives of all Believers, as well as the Bread, and peremptorily commanded, Drink ye all of this, and I hope you do not call eating the consecrated Wafer drinking the Wafer. But let Us grant you your strange Doctrine, that you do participate of the Blood of Christ in eating the Consecrated Wafer, who gave your Church Authority to alter Christ's Institution? How can Men dispense with an express Law of God? Can they annull what God would have Established, and continue to the Worlds end? And can you consent to so great a Sacriledge? Doth not some horror seize on you, when you

you seriously think that you approve of the Priests sinning against so notorious a Precept, and which he that runs may read? And pray Madam, wherein have you bettered your self in going over to the Roman Church? Is this your proficiency in Religion to forsake a Church, where you felt the lively Oracles of Heaven coming warm upon your Soul, and to joyn your self to a Church, where you hear nothing but Latine Prayers, and where the Priest, if he be not a good man, may as well Curse you as Bless you, for any thing you understand of his Language or Devotion?
 Is this Your proficiency in Religion to leave a Church where

where you were taught to Worship God in Spirit and in Truth, and now to cleave to one where they teach your Prayers to go upon Crutches of Crucifixes, Beads, and Images ? Doth this look like that Noble Religion which Christ taught the World, and whose design was to advance our Rational Souls by Contemplation and Meditation ? O Madam, you are too Young to know the Tricks of that Church you live in ; they are more politick Heads than yours is, that had the contriving of it.
 Bold Men, that had Learnt not to Blush at a Lye, and then thought it their interest to Hector the World into a belief to belief of it. We that can in Read Books as well as they,

 to and know the History of the our Church as well as they, can hes see through all these devices, I. which they perceiving are ok angry with Us for discovering on the Cheat. What was it Mathe dam, that you wanted in our was Church to carry you to Heanal ven. Did you want that which nd the Apostles and the Primi-ou tive Christians never want-he ed? I mean did you want ou more Articles of Faith than o- they subscribed and believs, ed! If you wanted that, we
 it. Confess we could not supply nt you, for we dare say nothing nd and believe nothing with Diest vine Faith, but what Moses, a and the Prophets, and Christ ef and

and his Apostles have taught us. If the Scripture contains all things necessary to Salvation, then we teach all that. If the Church of ROME knows more Articles than Christ or his Apostles knew of; we will admire her insolence, but cannot satisfy her unreasonable desire. Did you want strictness of Life in our Church? If all the Commands of the Gospel can make you Holy, We teach them all, and press them upon the People, and I presume you do not aim to be Holier than Christ and his Apostles would have you to be. Hath the Church of ROME another Gospel to teach you than

than we did instruct you in?
if they have, much good it may do them, We are not fond of the Apostle's Curse, Should an Angel from Heaven bring another Gospel to you let him be accursed. I know your common Plea that We Protestants cannot rightly interpret the Scripture, because We pretend to no infallibility. And do you blame Us for not being so impudent as the Church of ROME?
There is no Protestant but would be glad there were an infallible Interpreter of Scripture instituted by God and recommended to Mankind.

But where shall we find him? Who is it that God hath imparted this Honour
to?

(16)

to? If you say the Fathers, you know not what you say, for the Fathers differ many times as much in interpretation of the Scripture, and are as contrary to one another as any Men. If you say the Church that's a hard Word; if you mean Christs Universal Church, dispersed all the World over, you must tell us where it is that this Church hath left an infallible Comment upon the Bible, and how it is possible for a man that will be resolved in a point to go to all Christian People in the World; If you say the church of ROME, you must first shew Us her commission for this infallible interpretation. Secondly
you

you must prove She hath infallibly interpreted the Scriptures, and that those interpretations are infallible in all places. Thirdly you must agree among your selves what part of your Church is infallible, whether the Pope, or an Universal Council, or all Christian People, or whether all these together. To say that this Infallibility lies in the Church, though you know not where,
 is to say a Needle lies in a Bottle of Hay, and he hath good luck that finds it. Nay I think the church of R O M E hath been so modest, that notwithstanding all her pretensions to infallibility, She never hath dared to obtrude a comment on the Bible as infal-

fallible, nor did I ever see any Interpretation of the Bible made either by Pope or Council which hath pretended to Infallibility. If that Church be infallible why do not their own Divines agree in Interpretation of Scripture? if there be an infallible Sense of the Scriptures in that Church, then the Members of that Church are mad not to keep to that infallible Sense, especially if they know where to fetch it, and they offer great injuries and affronts to their Church in differing so much about interpretation of Scripture, when their Church can give them an Infallible sense of it. For that Church having as they pretend the Ho

Holy Ghost to guide them in all things, I suppose that Spirit assists her in Interpretation of one place of Scripture as well as in another: if they say it doth infallibly assist them in some places and not in all, they destroy their own Principle, and how shall a man be sure, that just in those Points that are in dispute between Us and them, they are Infallible? Is the Spirit divided? Or is he not alwaies the same? Or doth not he exert his power upon all occasions?

Madam, who so blind as those that will not see? Who sees not that the pretence of Infallibility is nothing but a juggle, a device to maintain a triple Crown,

Crown, and an Engine to carry on a temporal Authority? God indeed hath promised that his Church dispersed through the World, shall last to the World's end, and that the Gates of Hell shall not prevail against her, but that promise differs very much from a promise of Infallibility, and suppose it did infer an Infallibility, how comes the particular Church of ROME to ingross it to herself, that is at the best but a Member, and a very unsound one, of Christ's Universal Church? It is one thing to be secured against being destroyed, and another to be free from all possibility of Errour. There is no doubt but but a sober rational man, that prays earnestly for illumination, and reads the Scripture much, and considers the Circumstances, the Holy Writers were in, when they writ, and the Occasions of their writing, and hath the advantage of Learning, of Languages, and History, may give a very true Interpretation of Scriptures, such an Interpretation as no man can rationally contradict, though he hath not recourse to a Visible infallible guide, and though himself be not infallible. Things may be very certain, though they are not infallibly so, and he that can make things out so, that a prudent man cannot but give consent to them, and hath no just cause to doubt of their truth, may justly challenge beleif from other men. But I will not insist upon this point because I never heard you speak much of it. I will come a little closer to those reasons, that moved you to goe over to the Roman Church, whereof the principal was this, that you were troubled in mind upon the account of your Sins, and could get no satisfaction in Our Church, though you sought it like Esau with teares ; whereas you did no sooner confess to a Roman Priest, and receive absolution but you presently found unspeakable comfort.

And

And are you sure Madam, that the peace and satisfaction, you found in that Church was not delusion ? you tremble at that word ; But lets consider the Nature of your peace. When you were in our Church, either you did truly repent of all your Sins, or you did not. If you did not, most certainly you could have no solid peace, but if you did truly repent, as you say you did, what could hinder you from applying the promises made to penitent Sinners to your self, which are the true grounds of comfort and satisfaction ? may be you wanted a Voice from heaven to confirm the promise of the Gospel, but have you since heard ^{that} ^{voice} ?

Voice from heaven in the Church of R O M E? I think not ; if you truly repented in our Church, then certainly by the word of God you were assured that your Sins were pardoned, and if they were pardoned, why should you not comfort your self with that pardon? That which makes you rejoyce now, is because you believe your Sins are pardoned , but if when you were of our Church, you verily believed ; you truly repented, you could not but believe that your Sins were pardoned and consequently you might have taken as much comfort , as you do now. But the Ministers of our Church of England, you say, say, gave me no absolution, which the Roman Priest did.

 Why, Madam, did any of our Ministers deny you absolution, when you could assure them that your Repentance was sincere? did you ever ask absolution, and were you refused? Nay I appeal to your Conscience, did not those Ministers you conversed with al assure you over and over, that you need not doubt of the pardon of your Sins so long as you did detest and abhor them, and watch, and strive, and pray against them, and were sincerely resolved to commit them no more, and did avoyd the very occasions of Evill? and what was this but absolution, which however you might have had performed with greater Ceremony, if you had had a mind to it. It is no very hard matter to guesse at the rise and progress of your peace and satisfaction in the Roman Church. All new things please, and provided they have but a good face, allure our fancy, and this being pleased, Its very natural to defend them, and having once defended them, our Love to them advances, and by degrees we think our honour and Credit is too far engaged to part with them. We see how Children are quieted with new trifles (pardon the uncourtly comparison, I know not how to shun it) and the new

new object, they never saw before, surprizes and charmes them, makes them fix their Eyes upon it and cry, if they cannot have it. In the nature of Children we see our own, and embraceing new objects, which our sickly fancy is roving after, is but the Scene of Childrens longing for new play things, changed; the Novelty of the thing you were venturing upon; the new Church (new indeed, new to you, and new to Almighty God) which you were to joyn your self to, the Stool of Confession in the Church, and the Priests new habit, and mortified face (which perhaps he owes more to his Country, than to his B 4 Vertue)

way, and then laid the stress of your pardon upon the new Priests absolution in that formal manner wherewith your fancy being impregnated, it soon diffused a cheereful air in your countenance, and raised some gladness in your heart, because you had now done something more than ordinary, as an Antidote against your Sin. And from hence arose your pretended peace and satisfaction, or delusion rather, because you layd the stress of your pardon upon the absolution of that Roman Priest, and not upon the sincerity of your repentance. If a Priest could forgive Sinners whether men Repent or no, Then indeed you might have layd the stress of your pardon on that forgiveness of the Priest, but since by your own confession, that absolution of the Priest signifies nothing except people truly repent, for you to build your comfort on that absolution, when it should have been founded upon your sincere repentance, cannot but be a false fire and a conterfeit comfort, if you say; you did not fetch your peace from that absolution, but from the sincerity of your repentance, you catch your self, for if your true repentance must be the foundation of it, then you might have taken the same comfort in our Church: if you still reply

ply, you could not, yos only mean, you would not, for true repentance is true repentance in any Church, and if true repentance causes true comfort, it would have caused true comfort in our Church, as well as in the Roman, and therefore there must be some cheat in this comfort.

The fancy you have since taken up, that the reason, why you found comfort in the Church of R O M E upon your confession and absolution, and none in ours, must needs be, because the Priests of that Church are true Priests and those of ours are not, is as solid as your peace. If we have no true Priests in the Church of England, then most certainly certainly the Church of R O M E hath none. The Bishops, which in the beginning of our reformation did ordain Bishops, Priests and Deacons among us, were ordained by Bishops of that Church, and if the Character of Orders by their own confession be indeleble, then it was not all the thunders and Lightenings of Excommunication at R O M E could annul it. It's true your ghostly Father very confidently tells you (a Quality incident to that sort of men) That our first Protestant Bishops never received Orders from Bishops of the Church of R O M E, but one would admire what Spirit doth possess these men, that they

they dare contradict all the publick authentick Records we have of their being consecrated by Bishops of the Church of ROME ; they might as well deny , that there were no such Kings of England, as Henry 7th. and Henry 8th. (for we have nothing but publick Records to shew for it) as deny that the Bishops of the Reformation were never consecrated by Bishops of the Roman perswasion. I am perswaded that if any Papist should come into trouble about the title of an Estate, he hath, and did but know that the name of his Ancestors, the manner of the Conveyance

veyance and his just title were in some publick Record or Register, he would soon make use of it, alledge it as a sufficient proof, and thank God for preserving a Record, that is so much for his advantage. I know not, what can be a better testimony in matters of fact next to Revelation, than publick Records and Registers, and we dare venture our reputation upon it, that in the Authentick Registers of the respective Arch-Bishops of Canterbury, where fear of being counted Knaves, and Fools, for putting in things contrary to what was publickly known, may justly justly be supposed, to have kept the publick Notaries from asserting things notoriously false. In these Registers I say it will be found, what succession our first Protestant Bishops had, how Arch-Bishop Parker the first Arch-Bishop of Canterbury under Queen Elizabeth (to go no higher) was consecrated December: 17. 1559 by four persons then actually Bishops, and who had formerly been Ordained by Bishops of the Church of ROME (Viz.) William Barlow in Henry the 8th. dayes Bishop of St. Davids, under Edward the 6th. Bishop of Bath and Wells, under Queen Mary driven into Exile and returned

ed under Queen Elizabeth, John Scory formerly Bishop of Chichester, Miles Coverdale formerly Bishop of Exeter, and John Hodgkins Bishop Suffragan of Bedford, not to mention that the Queens Letters Patents (in case any of the other should be sick or forced to be absent) were directed to three Bishops more, that had formerly been Popish Bishops and were turned Protestants (Viz.) Anthony Bishop of Landaff, John Bishop Suffragan of Thedford and John Bale Bishop of Offery. But all this hath been so clearly demonstrated out of the publick Records, first by Mr. Mason, and since by Arch-Bishop Bramhal, that he
that

that writes of it can onely transcribe out of them, and those that deny these Records must be men of strange Foreheads, and of the greatest disingenuity. From these men that had their Priesthood from the Church of Rome, our Priesthood is lineally derived, so that if our Priesthood be not valid, theirs cannot be, and if Heresie doth not make the Episcopal office void, nor disable a man from conferring Episcopal order on other men (as is evident from the second Councel of Nice, with your Church an Oecumenical Counsel, which received Bishop Anato- lius tho consecrated by Diosco- rus a Heretical Bishop (if I say Heresie doth not make the Epispiscopal order void, then suppose, We were Hereticks our Priesthood which is derived from Popish Bishop, that turned Protestants must be a true Priesthood still, and to this purpose I remember one of your Church said lately, once a Priest, for ever a Priest.

Madam, if your desire to know the truth, be honest and sincere, you should Act like a person that hath a mind to be satisfied, and search the Publick Records, and till then believe not every Tale that's told you; the Common Plea of your Priests, that our Records are sophisticated, and that we have put in what we please, argues only boldness, and ignorance, when they

they can shew neither where, nor when, nor by whom they they were corrupted. Those that talk so, seem neither to understand what a publick solemne thing the Consecration of a Bishop is in England, nor to reflect, how difficult it is to fill a publick Register with falsities as to matters of fact, when there are so many hundered men, that know what is done at such a time, and View the Records, and would most certainly speak of it, if they found a flaw in the Relation.
 But if we should deal thus with the Church of ROME, question all their Registers in the Vatican, and say, which we might do
 with

with far greater reason, that they are things packed and invented by men, that have a mind to keep up a faction, I know what Language we should meet withal. But will you boast, say you, of having derived your orders from the Church of R O M E, when you believe the Church of R O M E to be an Idolatrous Church; Madam, It is not the Office of a Bishop in your Church we find fault withal, but the abuses of it. A Church thats guilty of very great corruption both in Doctrine and manners, may have something thats good and allowable, and he that retains that, is not therefore guilty of her corruption, nor espouses her Errours.

Your

Your Idolatry is one thing, and your Orders are another.
 The Jews did take many good things from the Heathens, and the Christians many commendable things from the Jewes, but that neither made the Jewes approve of the Heathenish Worship, nor the Christians allow of the Jewish Errours. We are not so disingenious, as to make the breach between you and Us wider then needs. So far as you go with Scripture and true Antiquity we hold with you, where you contradict both, We cannot with a safe Conscience bear you Company. He that sees a Pearl lye among a great deal of Trash, if he take the Pearl, is

is not therefore obliged to take the Rubbish too, and if we have derived our Orders from you, that inferrs no necessity, that we must therefore consent to your Notorious depravations of the ancient simplicity of the Gospel. The Christians heretofore, that approved of the Baptism of the Donatists, did not therefore presently acknowledge the truth of their opinions, and he that should take a good custome from the Turks, cannot be therefore said to approve of all things that are in the Alcoran.

Madam, there is nothing more ealie than to cavil at the most prudent Action in the World, especially where to where People take a flight d if survey of things, and do not Or- with seriousness and deliberacers tion weigh the circumstances must of the fact, and do not exaour mine the inside as well as the of outside, and I must confess the upon the best examination ere: of your actions and proceed-the ings in this Revolt to the did Church of R O M E, you neac- ver took the Right way to be heir satisfied, for instead of pon-ould dering the Arguments and Mo-rom tives of Our departure from fore the Church of R O M E, and ings of the reasons we alledge for our Church and Doctrine; hing you made it your chief im-cavil ployment to read their Books, tion and believed what they said ially to be Oracles, for no other here rea-

reason but because they talked with greater arrogance and confidence. If you say, that you could not judge of Arguments having never been bred a Schollar, I would but ask you how you durst change your Religion then? Did you change it without reason and without ground? and if you are not able to Weigh the strength of Arguments, how can you be sure that you are in the true Church at this time? It is not talk, but Arguments that must demonstrate the truth of a Religion, and if you have not sufficiently weighed the Arguments of both sides, It is a thousand to one, you may still be in the wrong way, and you know not

not but you may be as much out now, as you were formerly; Madam, so great a thing, as the change of your Religion, upon which no less then Eternity depends, might justly have challenged some years study, before you had resolved upon it. To do a thing of this nature upon so slight a Survey, Consider whether it doth not argue rashness, and weakness, rather than Piety and Devotion. To leave a Religion you have been bred and born in, a Religion founded upon the Word of GOD, and which you had Liberty to Examine by the Scripture, upon reading a Popish Book or two,

without diving to the Bottom of the several controversies, without reflecting on the importance of the points in question, without studying a considerable time which Religion comes nearest to Scripture, and which goes farthest off, is such an Argument of impatience, that you only seem to have yeilded to a dangerous temptation of the Devil. If the Controversies, between the Church of ROME and us, are so intricate, as you say, and above your capacity to dive into them, you have then run over to that Church in the dark, and have as little reason to be satisfied with your proceedings, as you believe you have with our

our way of Worship. You plead, that you have been sitting up whole nights, and weeping and praying, that God would discover to you, which is the true way to Salvation, and from that time forward you found inclinations to go over to that Church; and is this a sufficient argument to justify your forwardness? when you had already begun to doubt, whether our Church were a true Church or no, because you found not that satisfaction in it, your sickly desires wanted, it was then an easie matter to give ear to confident People, that magisterially and peremptorily assured you, that you would find satisfaction in their Church, and being fed with this hope, your inclinations to that Church grew stronger every day, as Our Mother Eve, the hopes of being like GOD, suggested to her by the Serpent, did egg and spur her on to eat of the fatal Tree.

We do not forbid people to pray to GOD to lead or direct them into the right way: (though sometimes it may be a perfect tempting of GOD, when People are in the right way to desire GOD to discover to them, by a Sign of their own choice, whether they are in it or no.) But then, if we pray to GOD to direct us,

we must not neglect the means, GOD hath appointed in order to our satisfaction, but must compare Scripture with Scripture, and Books with Books, and Arguments with Arguments, and search, which Religion agrees most with the Doctrines and Practices of Christ and his Apostles, and as the noble Berrheans did, examine all the Doctrines, obtruded to our beleif, by the Scripture; and doing thus, and continuing this search, and these prayers together, no doubt but GOD, in his own good time, will answer us and Direct us. But to pray to GOD to direct Us, and not to use the means, in the use of which he hath promised to direct Us, We do in a manner mock him, or desire him to work a Miracle for Us, or to vouchsafe Us some extraordinary Revelation, when we have Moses and the Prophets, and may hear them. And I am confident, had you joyned this way with your Prayer, examined the Doctrines of the Church of ROME, and compared them with the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ, seen whether there be any thing like it in the Bible, and searched whether Christ and his Apostles ever taught such Doctrines, and done all this, not slightly, but seriously and solidly, Its impossible,

you could ever have turn^d ed Papist, for if our Gospel be true, that Religion can never be true, for there is nothing in the World can run more counter to the Gospel, than the Doctrines of that Church, wherein we differ from them, and they had need put the Bible among prohibited Books, for should the people have Liberty freely to peruse it, the Church of ROME would grow very thin and despi-cable.

I am sensible your Priests find fault with our Translation of the Bible, and Cry out, that there are great defects in it, but when they talk so, they had need talk to Women, not to men of Learning, and that understand Greek and Hebrew, the Languages, in which the Word was Originally written. The Honesty of our Translators appears sufficiently from hence, because, if any sentence in the Bible be capable of a double sense, they express the one in the Text, and the other in the Margin, and where they do but in the least, vary from the Original, they either discover it by the Italick Character, or give you notice of it in the Margin, then which there can be nothing more honest. And let any Papist of you all shew Us, wherein any thing in our Bibles is ill Translated out of malice or de-design, or expressed in words, which the Original will not bear.

If We examine Translations by the Original, then sure I am, there is few translations go further from it, than the Vulgar Latine, or the Rhemist Testament, as were an easie matter to prove, if I intended more than a Letter.

You are much taken with their Mortifications and Penances, which, you say, we have not in our Church; But it's a signe, Madam, you did not rightly understand our Religion; We are so far from condemning Mortification and severity of life, that we do commend it, provided it be in order to subdue the body of Sin, and to raise our selves to a greater pitch of Vertue, Provided these severities be separated from all opinion of merit, and from an opinion of their being satisfactory, and expiatory, and used only as helps, to work in us a perfect detestation of Sin. And I will assure you there are more in the Church of England, that use severities in this humble holy way, than you are aware of.

We indeed do not ordinarily inflict them on all persons, because we know not their constitution, nor what their nature will bear, nor have we any command for
it

it in the word of GOD, but these things we leave to every mans discretion, Urging, that where Sins require stronger remedies, there men ought to make use of them, and if their corruptions will not be gone by rea-sonings and Arguments, that there they must inflict mulcts and penalties on themselves to drive the Unclean Spirit out. Though I must say still, that Religious severities and austerities are not certain signs of a true Religion, for Heathens do use them, as much as Christians, nay more than Christians, Witness the Brahmanes in the Indies, and the religious Pagans dispersed through all the Eastern parts,

and if you conclude, that therefore the Church of ROME must be in the right, because they inflict great penances, and severities, and make daily use of them, I am afraid, you only forbear turning Turk or Heathen, because you never saw their far greater severities in Religion, than the Church of ROME can boast of: But still the Protestant Church hath not the real Body and Blood of Christ in the Holy Sacrament, which the Church of ROME hath; And are you sure the Church of ROME hath it? I am persuaded you did never taste it, nor see it, nor feel it, nor Smell it, and how do you know know it? what? because the Priests of that Church do tell you so? No, say you, It is, because Christ saith in expresse termes, this is my Body. And here, I confess, I stand amazed, that men, with learning and reason about them, can sink into an opinion so contradictory, that, if all the consequences of it be considered, there is nothing in nature can be more absurd, or irrational, and the Church of R O M E had need oblige men to deny both their reason and senses to beleive a transubstantiation. Here indeed a Faith is necessary, strong enough to remove mountaines, and though never any Miracles were wrought.

wrought, but were wrought on purpose to convince our senses, yet here we must believe one, which neither sense nor reason can discover. When Christ gave the Sacrament to his Disciples, saith the Apostle, 1 Corinth. 11. 24. He brake the bread, and said, take eat, this is my body, which is broken for you. It is a wonderful thing, that the word is, in the first Sentence, this is my Body, should have a literal sense, and in the very next sentence, pronounced with the same breath, cannot admit of a Litteral sense; for the word is, in the second sentence must necessarily stand for shall be, because Christs Body, when he gave the Bread,

was not yet broken : If it will not admit of a Litteral Sense in the very next sentence, because of the absurdity that would follow , that Christ was Crucified , before he was Crucified, why should we understand it in the first sentence literally, when the absurdity is far greater ; Nay that the word is should not be capable of being understood literally in the second essential part of the Sacrament, This cup is the New Testament , that here I say it should import, and can import nothing else, but signifies or is a sign of the new Testament , and yet must not be understood so, in the first part of the Sacrament, is a thing we

we cannot comprehend : And when the Apostle, speaking of the Lords Supper or Eucharist, 1 Cor. 10. 16. The Cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the Communion of the Blood of Christ, and the Bread which we break, is it not the Communion, of the Body of Christ; Let the rigidest Papist, that hath not quite banished his reason, tell me, how he will make sense of the word is here, except he understand it figuratively ; most certainly it cannot be understood literally ; for the Cup is not that Communion, but is a sign of it : One would admire, how men can be so obstinate in a thing as clear as the Sun, and you might as well well conclude, that Christ is a Door made of boards and nailes, because the Scripture sayth, he is a Door, and that he is a real Vine with green Leaves and Grapes about him, because the Scripture saith he is a Vine. But suppose the word is in these words, This is my body, must be understood literally, how doth this make for transubstantiation? Are the words is and is transubstantiated all one? A thing may be said to be a thousand ways, and yet without transubstantiation, so that, if by the word is you understand transubstantiation, you your selves must go from the literal sense, and assume a sense, which is not expres expressed in that saying. All the Jews are so well versed in the sense of Sacramental expressions, that by the word is they understand nothing but signifies or represents, and therefore its a horrid shame, that Christians, meerly for fear of being laughed at, for departing from an absurd opinion, and losing the credit of a pretended infallibility, should make themselves ignorant in that, which the meanest Jew, even before the Gospel, understood without a Teacher; for we may confidently believe, that no Jew, before Christs time, was so sottish to think, when it's said, the flesh is the Passover, Exod. 12. 11.

that the flesh or blood was really the Pasſeover, but only a ſign and representation of it, or a token to them, as Moses calls it, ver. 13. I will not here put you in mind of the ſtrange abſurdities that muſt follow from this Doctrine of Tranſubſtanti-
viz. that Chriſt, when he did eat and drink in this Sacrament, muſt have eaten his own fleſh, and that the Apoſtles muſt have eaten his body, while he was at the Table with them, and before it was Crucified, &c. I could tell you, that this Doctrine is againſt the great Article of our Faith, that Chriſt is aſcended into Heaven, and there ſitteth at the Right Hand of

GOD until the day of Judgment.

That it is against the Nature of a real Body to be in a thousand places at once. And that from hence it must follow, that the Body and Blood of Christ is capable of being devoured by Vermin, capable of being poisoned, and instead of giving life may be so order'd, that it shall kill and murther; witness Victor the third, Pope of ROME, and Henry the Vllth. Emperour, who were poisoned in the Sacrament, not to mention a thousand more of such Monstrous consequences: But since, Madam, you do insist so much upon that place of Scripture,

John

John 6. 53. Except you eat my flesh and drink my blood you have no life in you. He but briefly shew you, how ill a Logician you are, to conclude that this is spoke of the Sacrament, or that these words infer a Corporal manducation of Christs real Body and blood; if they be meant of the Eucharist, it will necessarily follow, that Christ oblig'd the Jews, and his hearers to come to the Sacrament at the time he spake these words, for he speakes of their present eating and drinking, (Except ye eat, &c.) But this he could not possibly do, for the Sacrament of his body and blood was not instituted till at least least a whole twelve months after, nor did any of his disciples, at that time, dream of any such thing, as his dying, and being crucified, nor doth Christ speak the least word of it in the whole Chapter, which he must necessarily have done, if he had intended the Sacrament by it, which is all together founded in his crucifixion. For this Sermon of Christ, concerning eating and drinking his flesh and blood, was delivered just about the Feast of the Passeeover, ver. 4. After which feast, as it is said, John. 7. 1, 2. the Jews celebrated the feast of Tabernacles, and after this they kept another feast of the Passeeover, the last, which which Christ was at, which was no less than a twelve month after, John. 11. 55. John. 12. 21. So that the Sacrament of Christs Body and blood, not being instituted before the last Passover, as all the Evangelists agree, it was not possible, that either the believing Jews, or the Apostles could understand it of the Sacrament (and I suppose Christ intended to be understood) because there was no such thing as yet instituted. Besides, it is impossible, that it can be understood of the Sacramental eating and drinking of the Body and Blood of Christ, for without this eating and drinking there is no Salvation to be had, as

It is said , Job. 6.¹ 53, 54. and if it were to be understood of the Eucharist, we must exclude all Christians from Salvation, that are not in a capacity, nor in a possibility of receiving it, which, I am sure, your own Church will not do.

And that these words of Christ cannot possibly be understood of a Corporal eating Christs flesh, and drinking his blood, but must be understood of a Spiritual eating and drinking, that is, believing in him, and obeying him, and hoping for pardon through his death, which is the Spiritual food of the Soul, is evident from the 54th. and 56th. Verse, where every one that

eats of his flesh, and drinks of his blood, is said to have actually eternal life in him, and Christ dwelling in him, and he dwelling in Christ. That is, Christ loves him with a love of complacency, he is a Child of GOD, and beloved of him, and an heir of Heaven; But since Wicked men come to the Sacrament, not only in our Church, but even in the Church of ROME, it would follow, if a corporal eating were understood, that Wicked men, eating Christs body, and drinking his blood, have Eternal life in them, and that Christ dwells in them, and are true Children of GOD, and heires of Heaven, contrary to the unanimous consent of the Holy Prophets and p

Appo-

Apōstles, who call Wicked men Children of the Devil, and blinded by the Devil, the GOD of the World, and Heirs of damnation. And indeed it is strange, that people should contend for this corporal and sensual eating of Christs flesh, and drinking his blood, when Christ himself saith, v. 63. That the flesh profiteth nothing, and that this eating and drinking must be understood spiritually, i.e. of Spiritualeating and drinking, which is believing, as it is said, v. 64.

You see, Madam, what it is not to make use of your own reason, but to enslave it to the Faith of a Church, which loves to act in the Dark, and would have her Children Colliers, and believe what the Church believes lieves, and know little more than the great Mystery of an Ave Maria, or a Rosary.

Time was, when you were pleased to tell our Ministers that though you were gone over to the Church of R O M E, yet you had liberty not to pray to Saints, nor to fall down before Images, for that was not thought necessary by the Church of R O M E, which only recommends praying to Saints, and Veneration of Relicks, and Images, as a thing useful, and which men have received much benefit by. And indeed I remember, I was told, you thought, that praying to Saints was a kind of Idolatry, and therefore were glad they would excuse you from that Worship ; but since, I hear, that you are grown as devout a Worshipper of Saints, and peculiarly of the Virgin Mary, and do prostrate your self before them, as much as the most tractable Papist in the World. I confess, I did smell a Rat at first, when your Priests assured you , that Invocation of Saints was not a thing commanded but recommended as useful, and was then confident that before a year came to an end, for all these soft expressions and dispensations with your omission of this worship, they would persuade you to that worship, which then you thought unlawful : My prophecy is come to pass, and the Pill, which seemed seemed very bitter at first, is swallowed, and become sweeter than hony, and look'd upon as an excellent Medicine. And this, I must needs say, is more than you could have in our Church. But this is our Comfort, that the more ingenuous men of the Church of ROME confess, that this praying to Saints or Angels was not heard of, or used in the Christian Church, for the first three hundred years after Christ : and if the Christian Church, for the first 300 years, did not think it useful at all, it is a strange degeneration from their principles, to press it now as useful : Certainly , if GOD had thought this invocation so useful, as your Church pretends, it is, He would not have so peremptorily commanded, Call upon me in the day of trouble; I will deliver thee, and thou shalt glorifie me.

Psalm. 50. 15. and it's probable, the Apostles, in prescribing so many useful things of far less concern, would not have left us in the dark as to the mighty usefullness of this invocation; especially, when they had occasion to mention the spirits of men made perfect, and did so often converse with Angels. The Angel, Revel. 22. 8. 9. thought it a very useless thing, and would not admit of so much as a Religious prostration of the Evangelist before him, because because it look'd like Sacrilege, and robbing GOD of his due,

But since your Church in this adoration takes pattern so much by the Courts of Princes, give me leave to suggest to you, how you think, a Sovereign Prince would take it, if a Subject should give any of his servants the title of Majesty, or any other title, which properly belongs to him. There are few titles, that GOD hath, and inspired men have given to him, but you give them to the Blessed Virgin, and though, when you are charg'd with it, you fall to distinctions, and turn, and wind your selves to get out, yet that shews only a bad cause, because it requires so much artifice and cunning to defend it : but, alas ! it must be Children, that are perswaded and coaxed to believe, that the Church of ROME onely counts it useful not necessary, when it is well known, that the generality of that Communion pray to Saints more than to GOD (which in the Scripture phrase is honouring the creature more than the Creator) and they never leave that person, that goes over to them, till they have brought him to that Worship of Saints and Angels.

Its pretty to hear these Men talk, that it is only recom-commended as useful, when the Bishops and Preachers of that Church are enjoined, and take their oath upon't, to commend this invocation to the People, as profitable ; and the People are obliged to hearken to their Priests in all things; so that though a Man at first may think this Invocation not necessary, upon the account of its being onely useful, yet from that other obligation he hath, to obey the Priest in all spiritual things, it becomes necessary : But from this scruple we are delivered, Madam, by the Confession of Faith, which the Roman Catechisme doth prescribe, for there it is, that it is not onely useful, but that we ought to pray unto Saints, and indeed should any man live in that Communion, and omit it, he would soon be looked upon as prophane, and but a half Convert to their Church; they would soon let him know their displeasure, and either fright or flatter him into conformity. And is this the Worship, Madam, which Christ and his Apostles have enjoyned the World? Are not you afraid of doing things, that do so nearly border upon robbing God of his honour and glory? Idolatry is a frightful word, and you do not love to hear it, and therefore I will trouble you with it as little as I can. But when God hath commanded you to come to him directly, without mentioning the intercession of Saints and Angels, how dares your Church of her own head, bring in a Worship so dangerous? who should prescribe the way how God is to be worshipped, but God himself? And if God requires you to address yourself to him without any other Mediator, but Christ Jesus, Have not you just reason to be afraid, that God will reject your Prayers, which are addressed to Saints, as Mediators, contrary to his order and injunction? What Kings suffer here on Earth, in letting their Subjects address themselves by their Servants to them, can be no example here, for God, as he intends not to regulate his Court by the Court of Princes, so we know it is against his Order, to go to his Servants, when we are commanded to come directly to him, and it is such a voluntary humility as deprives us of our reward, as the Apostles expressly tells us. Coloss. 2. 18. God knew well enough if men addressed themselves to his Servants, to have access to him, something of the Worship due to him would stick by the way, and rest upon his Servants to his dishonour and disparagement, and therefore he mentioned nothing of this mediate address. Its true we desire fire

fire our neighbours here on Earth to pray for us, but for that we have a command ; for the invocation of Saints departed we have none, and in vain do they worship me (saith God) teaching for doctrines the Commandments of men, Mat. 15. 9. But besides, when you desire your living Neighbours to pray for you, I hope you do not fall down upon your knees to them, nor use the same zeal and devotion to them, as you do to God, and for whole hours together, as you do to Saints departed. But why will you blind your self in a thing which your own practice contradicts you in, you know you do not onely pray to Saints

Saints departed to pray for you, but you do many times, without making any mention of their Prayers for you, beg of them, with the same reverence, and prostrations you use to God, to deliver you from all evil, and consequently you beg the same Blessings of them you beg of God. And it is but a weak excuse to say, that you intend by those Prayers nothing else, but that by their intercession they may get those blessings for you, for you go contrary to the nature of things, and whereas words ordinarily are interpreters of the mind, you make your minds interpreters of your words and actions, which is a strange error, evasion, and if such a thing be intended, why do you lay a snare before the Common sort of People? who, being ordered to pray to Saints for such and such blessings, know nothing to the contrary, but that they are able to dispense those Blessings to them, and thus commit Idollatry by your willful connivance, whose blood will certainly be required at your Churchmens hands one day. Examine but your Prayers to the Virgin Mary in your own Manuals, when you have prayed to her, and begged of her all that you can pray of GOD, you add a word or two of her intercession, which in good truth is nothing but a

blind, that you may not be said to commit down right Idolatry. You know those Prayers to the Virgin Mary, which in the Latine, and I think in the English Manual too, are ordered to be said to the Virgin Morning and Evening, the one, O my Lady, Holy Mary, I commend myself, my Soul and Body to thy blessed care and singular custody, and to the besome of thy mercy this day, and every day, and in the hour of my going out of the World. All my hope, and all my comfort, all my afflictions and miseries, my life, my end I commit unto thee (speak seriously what can you say more to G O D) that by thy most holy Intercession, and by thy me.

merits, all my words and actions may be directed and disposed according to thine, and thy Sons Will, Amen.

Where it's worth noting, that first you do put as much trust in the Virgin as you do in GOD, and then afterwards, to make these harsh expressions softer, you desire her to interceed for you, that your works may be directed according to Christs Will, nay and her own, as if she were a Law-giver too? Then follows Maria Mater Gratie &c. O Mary, Mother of Grace, Mother of Mercy, Protect us from the Enemy, and receive us in the hour of Death, which St. Stephen thought was fitter to be said to Christ, when he Cryed,

Cryed, Lord Jesu receive my Spirit. Then followes the Evening Prayer to the Virgin Mary. O Mary, Mother of G O D, and gracious Virgin, the true Comforter of all distressed Creatures that call upon thee (this Epithete by the way the Scripture gives to the Holy Ghost) by that great joy whereby thou wast comforted, when thou didst know that Jesus Christ was risen the third day from the Dead impassible, be thou the Comforter of my Soul , and by the same , who is thine and G O D S only Son in the last day, when with body and Soul I shall rise again , and give an account of all my actions, do thou Vouchsafe to help help me, that I may escape the Sentence of perpetual Damnation by thee Pious Mother and Virgin, and may come happily with all the Elect of GOD to Eternal joyes, Amen. Then follows, vnder thy protection we flee, Holy Mother of GOD, despise not our prayer in our necessities, but deliver us from all dangers alwayes, O glorious and blessed Virgln. Not to mention any more prayers of this nature, whereof there is a vast number.

If GOD be a GOD jealous of his Glory, how can he like and approve of such doings? It's true the Honour done to his Servants is done to him, but then it must be

be such Honour, as they are capable to receive ; so to Honour them, as to give them the Epithetes and titles which the Scripture gives to none but GOD, so to Honour them, as to use in your prayers to them the same outward prostrations, that you use to GOD, when you pray to him, so to Honour them, as to spend more time in your addresses to them than you do in supplications to GOD, as is evident from your Rosary ; so to Honour them, as to say more prayers to them than to Christ, so to Honour them, as to joyn their merits with Christs merits : This is an Honour which, I believe, will oblige

GOD to say one day, who hath required these things at your hands? And how unlike the Worship of the true GOD is that Veneration you expresse to the Images and Pictures of Saints, and to Relicks? How unlike that plain and Simple Worship which the Gospel enjoynes? One would think it should a little startle you, to see, that your Church is afraid to let the second Commandement be known to the people, you know they leave it out in their Primmers and Catechismes, or if they mention it, they do so mince it, that one sees plainly, they are afraid the People should see the contrariety of their Worship to the expresse word

word of GOD. In the beginning of the Reformation, the very sight of this Commandement made people run away from the Church of R O M E as much as any thing; indeed to consider the general termes GOD uses there, Thou shalt not make to thyself any graven Image, &c. Thou shalt not only not Worship them but not so much as fall down before them, would make a person, that is not taken more with the Golden Legends, than with Scripture, afraid of prostrations before Images, upon the account of devotion; it is not all your plea, that you do not terminate your worship on the Image, but on the person represented presented by the Image, that will excuse you at the great tribunal, for not to mention, that in the same manner the Heathen used to defend their grossest Idolatry, and that you are forced to borrow their very Arguments, your own Authors do confesse, that the common people are apt to pay adoration, and do pay adoration to the Images themselves, and why will you lay such a Stumbling block before the people?

Much might be said of the adoration you pay to the consecrated Host; you confess, that the worship you give to it, is the same worship, you give to God; What if

if that Wafer should not be turned into the Body and Blood of Christ ? what if it should remain as very a Wafer , as it was before consecration ? what if it should not be God, as you have all the demonstration that sense or reason can give you , that it is not changed into another substance ? what monstrous Idolatry would this be ? Ay, but we believe it to be GOD ; why, Madam, doth your belief, that such a thing is God, or Christ, excuse you from Idolatry ? should you believe a Stone to be GOD, and adore it, might not you justly be charged with Idolatry ? you look upon the Heathens as

Idolaters

Idolaters, because they adore the Sun ; Ay, but they believe that Sun to be God, and how then, according to your plea, can they be Idolaters ? If there be such a Transubstantiation in the Sacrament, as you fancy, and an Adoration of the Hoste so very necessary, what's the reason, the Apostles of our Lord, that saw Christ before their eyes, (only could not believe that there were two Christs, one sitting at the table, the other reached out to them;) What's the reason, I say, that they sate still and paid no Adoration to the Bread, which according to you was Transubstantiated into Christ ? If they did not

adore it, what a presumption is it in you to give the highest Worship to the consecrated bread upon a pretence, that that bread is God under the accidents of Bread? But of this I have said enough before, and could you but find time to read what our Authors have written upon this subject, it could be nothing but hardness of heart, and resolution to be blind, could keep you in a Church, that fills your head with Doctrines, contrary to the nature of a Sacrament, contrary to all that Moses, and the Prophets, nay and all sound Philosophers have said.

I will not say any thing here of your strange unbloody bloody Sacrifice of the Mass, a thing unheard of in the purer Ages of Christianity, and which the Scripture is so great a stranger to, that one would wonder how Mankind came to light upon the notion. Nor of your Doctrine of Merits, because, I find your Priests have two strings to their Bow, and tell the people one thing, and their adversaries, when they dispute with them, another; affirm and deny it as they see occasion, and necessity requires. Only one thing I must needs take notice of before I take my leave, and that is the Gigantick Argument, that some of your Gentlemen boast of, and which strikes all Protestants dead at the first hearing of it. If there be any thing true, this must be true, that there is a G O D, if there be a G O D, there must be a true Religion, if there be a true Religion, there must be a true revealed Religion, if there be a true revealed Religion, the Christian Religion must be that true revealed Religion, and if the Christian Religion be true, then the Religion of the Church of R O M E must be true, for the Argument, that proves the Christian Religion to be true proves the Religion of the Church of R O M E to be true, which is this, Either the Christian Religion was propagated pagated without miracles or by miracles, if by miracles then it must be divine, if without miracles, then it is the greatest miracle, that a Religion, so contrary to flesh and blood, should prevail with sensual men. The same, say they, is true of the Religion of the Church of ROME. For if it be propagated by Miracles, it must be divine, if without Miracles, it must be so much more, because it prescribes things contrary to Flesh and blood, as Penances, Austerities, &c. And thousands of People do embrace it. I will not make myself merry here in a thing so serious, else I could have told you, that I have hard of an

as Universally true , that a Religion that goes against Flesh and blood , if propagated without Miracles , must therefore be necessarily Divine. Secondly , that so far as the Religion of the Church of ROME agrees with the truly Christian Religion, so far it is undoubtedly true , and it will naturally follow , that if the Christian Religion be true, the Religion of the Church of ROME, so far as it agrees with the Christian Religion, must needs be true. And the same may be said of the Protestant Religion, but that the Roman Religion must therefore be true, where it goes away and differs from the truly Christian Religion, revealed to us in the Gospel, is a consequence, which none but Children can approve of. Thirdly with this Argument, a man might prove the Divinity of almost any Religion in the World. He that is no stranger to History, must needs know, what severities, what austerities of life the Brachmans, or the Heathen Friers in the Indies do both prescribe, and practise, and what Profelites they make, and how full the Kingdom of the great Mogol is of them, how some Wallow in ashes day and night, how others go charged with heavy Iron Chaines all their dayes, how others stand upright upon their Leggs for whole weekes together gether, &c. How in Japan and other places of the Indies, the Priests perswade the people to fast themselves to death, to go long Pilgrimages, to give all they have to the Priests, to throw themselves down from steep rocks, and break their necks, and all to arrive the sooner to the happiness of another World, &c. I think there cannot be things more contrary to flesh and blood, than these, and yet we see these Doctrines are propagated daily without any force of Armes, only by Example and perswasion, to be sure without any Miracle, but, I hope, that doth not prove their Religion to be divine. It's a Dictate of the light of Nature, that the way to Heaven is strait, and therefore people, that are religiously inclined, are easily won over to those men, whom they see exercise such severities upon themselves.

To Conclude, Madam, when all is done, what the true Church is, must be tryed by the Writings of the Evangelists, and Apostles. We see, that even in the Apostles dayes, corruptions crept into the Church, Witness the Churches of Corinth, Galatia, and Colosse, &c. and the simplicity of the Gospel began even then to be perverted and mingled with idle and foolish opinions and practises, and therefore we must needs think, think, that after the Apostles, decease, the Church of Christ was subject to the same fate, so that if there be any standard or touchstone left, whereby the truth and sincerity of a Church can be tried (and we must needs think so well of GODS providence that he would not leave his Church without some rule to rectifie their Errors by, in case she should be infected with any) it must be the Primitive institution of the Christian Religion, and that Church, as I said before, which teaches things, that approach nearest to that primitive institution, must be the true Church.

And, Madam, do but once more for your Souls sake, and for

for your Salvations sake, compare the Doctrines and practises of the Church of R O M E, with the Doctrines and practises of the Gospel, the Fountain of Christianity, and try whether you can find there, the Doctrines of Communion under one kind, of publick prayers in a tongue unknown to the people, of Purgatory, of the Mass, of Transubstantiation, of the Church of Rome's supremacy and infallibility, of Worshipping and adoring the Virgin Mary, and praying to Saints, of Veneration of Relicks and Images, of adoration of the Hoste, &c.
 Do not force any places of Scripture, and try whether you can make sense of any
 of

of these Doctrines by Scripture? View the Stream of the Gospel, and search whether there be any thing like these Doctrines in it? why will you make your reason a Slave to your Priests magisterial Sentences? How can you answer it to GOD, that you did not improve your reason more? What have you your reason for, but to judge what is agreeable to the Word of GOD, and what is not? Is not this acting like a Creature void of reason, to be guided altogether by what a few blind guides say to you, without enquiring at the Law and Testimony, whether things are so as they say or no? Wonderful stupidity! I stand amazed mazed at it. It is not all the seeming Holinets of those Priests you converse withal, that make the Church you are in, a true Church. There is no Sect in the World, but when they are under a Clōud, necessity and the discouragement they are under, and their desire to make Profelytes, makes them outwardly Religious. There may be, and no doubt are Zealous and outwardly pious men in all Religions in the World, but that doth not make every Religion true, and divine. An outward shew of Piety is the only way of propagating any Religion. The Devil himself could not propagate Heathenisme and Idolatry, but by

by the pretended Zeal, and Piety, and Abstinence, and Mortification of Apollonius Tyaneus, who yet by the confession of the whole Christian world, was no better then a Wizard and Conjuror; I make no application to any particular Priest in the Church of ROME; I do not deny, but men may be in great Errors, and be very Zealous for their errours, and seemingly very pious in their Zeal, and when their Errors are not very wilful, and destroy not the true Worship of GOD, for ought I know, they may find mercy in the day of our Lord. I grant there is a great shew of outward Piety in the Church of ROME very dazeling and very very moving , but the great danger lyes here , that the Worship they give to GOD with one hand, they strike and pull down with the other : I know too well the practise of their Churches, and a Heathen that should come into their Temples beyond Sea, would verily believe , that they Worship a Multiplicity of Gods as well as he , whatever their pretentions may be to the contrary ; It is not what people say, so much as what they do , that GOD takes notice of, and though you should Ten Thousand times protest, that you Worship and adore GOD alone, yet while GOD sees you adore the Virgin Mary, with as

as great Zeal and reverence, as you do him, pray to her oftener then you do to him, make as many bowes to her,
 and other Saints, as you do to him, and other things of that nature, how can he believe you? Religion is a thing that will not bear jests and Hypocrisy, G O D will not be put off with contradictions between speeches and Practises.

Madam, I do from my heart Pitty you, and as it might be the weaknes of your Judgment, that might lead you into this Erroneous Church, so I beseech you, for Christs sake, to return to the Church, you have rashly left, where you cannot run a hazard if you will but follow the plain

plain Doctrines of the Gospel, besides which, we preach nothing, and enjoyn nothing as necessary to Salvation. Should these entreaties and beseechings be alledged against you in the last day, as things which you have, contrary to reason, refused and slighted, how dreadful would your condition be ? I have discharged my Duty , and given you warning, I would not have your Guilt lye at my Door , and therefore have let you know my real thoughts and Sentiments concerning your condition , and the Church you are in. The Great GOD of Heaven open your eyes , that you may see and fear.

Time

Time was when you would have believed us as much as you do now the Priests of the Church of ROME. It's strange, that now they should speak nothing but truths, and we nothing but falsehood. Do you think, we do not understand the Scriptures, and Fathers, and Antiquity, as well as they? And can we all be so besotted with interest and passion that none of us should yied to the dictates of their Church, if we could prevail with our sense and reason to believe, that the things wherein they differ from us were agreeable to the Gospel? sure we have a great many men among us that are great Lovers of Peace, and would be

be glad that the whole Christian world were agreed, and would these men stand out against that union, if it could be done with a safe Conscience? Certainly we have men as learned among us, as ever the Sun did shine upon, nay the Church of R O M E hath at this day few men to equal ours for Learning and knowledge. And would all our Learned men be so stubborne and obstinate, as not to agree with the Church of R O M E, if they did not see plainly, that there is Death in that Pot, and that the Errours in that Church cannot be subscribed to without hazarding the welfare of their Souls? I will but use your own Argument, gument, when you went over to the Church of R O M E, and were perswaded by the earnestness of her Priests to yeild to their reasonings, what pleasure can we take in promoting your Damnation ? What can be our interest in deceiving you ? You used that Argument on their side, why will you not use it on our side, Judge you, whither we, that have the Gospel on our side for what we teach, are not in a safer way, than that Church, which for all the new Doctrines they have added to the Old Creedes, are forced to run to the broken Cisterns of Tradition, and I know not what Fathers, whose writings they know

not whether they be genuine or no ? As you are now, you live in willful opposition to the Doctrine and Precepts of the Gospel, And O Remember what St. Paul doth say 2 Thes. 1. 7, 8. That the Lord Jesus will ere long come down from Heaven with all his Holy Angels to take Vengeance on those who have disobeyed the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ. Once more therefore I charge you before Almighty G O D, and our Lord Jesus Christ, to repent of your Errours, and to return to the bosome of that Church, in which you received your life, and being, and the Principles of Religion and Christianity. But if all this seem

seem to you no more but Bugbears, I have delivered my own Soul, and should be sorry that this discourse should stand as a Witness against you in the Last day, which GOD knows was only intended as a motive to draw you back to that Fold from which you have Wandered and gone astray.
 I am

Madam, Your Faithfull
Friend to serve You.

Postscript

Madam,

ASin the publishing of this Letter I had no other design , but to prevent the fall of others into the like dangers, so I have particularly insisted on those motives, which have of late tempted some persons to go over to the Roman Church , and though I have represented these motives as yours , yet in this I have been so far from doing any thing against the laws of private discourse, or friendship, or acquaintance, that that I have only touch'd upon the common stumbling-blocks, which make unwary people joyne themselves to that Church; blocks, which might easily be removed, if men or Women would but give themselves leave to think, and would prefer the solid dictates of their reason before the suggestions of their soft, and sickly passions. One thing I had almost forgot, and which indeed is the great bug-bear, whereby your Church men fright their people from running over to us, and that is, that our Church began but about an hundred and fifty years ago, that Luther and Zwinglius were the Authors F of

of it , and that we had no Church before ; pittiful shifts indeed to keep people from seeing the Sun at noon ; suppose our Religion did but begin then, why , must people be alwayes in an Errour ? must they never reform when they have done amiss ? if there were Monstrous Errors in the Church of ROME, which the aforesaid persons saw would be the death of Christianity, and which they could not subscribe to without debauching their reason, or wronging both their own and other mens Consciences, was it not rational, they should protest against such things , to give their tellow Christians warning ?

when the House is on fire, would you have no body awake to alarm the Neighbours to look to themselves? Did they see so many thousand men ready to be drown'd, and would you have had them hold their tongues, and barbarously suffered them all to be drown'd? Did they see the Christian Religion like to be swallowed up by darkness and Ignorance, and was it not time to rouse the slumbering world? But however, that these men were the first broachers of our Religion, is Notoriously false; First, because long before them, there were men that lived in the External communion of the Church of ROME, but dillik'd the Errours, as they crept in, and grew dangerous, and though they were overaw'd and silenc'd many times by the higher powers of the Roman-Court, yet they both detested those corruptions, and as they had opportunity, protested against them, as were an easy matter to prove from age to age, if it had not been done already over and over by Divines of our Church, so that though these men, that lived long before Luther, and whom GOD still rais'd to vindicate his truth as it grew more, and more polluted, were not call'd Protestants by the People, yet in effect they

they were so, and consequently there were Protestants many years before Luther and Zwinglius; And though they were not suffered by the Ignorant, and imperious Ecclesiastical powers to meet and assemble themselves in publick, yet they made a Church, as much as the followers of Holy Athanasius did, when the whole world was turned Arrian, as much as Elijah, and those seven thousand, the Oracle mentions, made a Church, when the Whole Country was over run with Idolaters. These seven thousand we read lay hid, and durst not appear in publick, being oppress'd by the Idolatrous powers, that sat at the stern, and thought there was no good fishing but in troubled waters. And indeed in this manner our Church was dispers'd long before Luther, among the greater multitude of the followers of the corrupted Roman Church, as a hand-ful of wheat lies scatterd in a bushel of Chaff, and though it did not appear in Pomp and grandeur, yet that external splendour is not essential to the truth of a Church, your own men may be convinced by the aforementioned examples.

Secondly ; if your Champions speak strictly of the Religion, which we profess in

in the Church of England, they are under a mistake, when they make Luther or Zwinglius the Authors of it, for our Reformation began some time after, and was both begun, and carried on with great deliberation and consideration under Edward the 6. by publick authority, whose proper province it is to take notice of what is amiss in a Kingdom or Commonwealth, whether it be in Church or State, and to reform and mend it. It's no great matter, when a Reformation begins, so the Reformation be but just; and if such a Reformation had begun but yesterday, that would not have made it unlawful, and that our Reformation was just and necessary hath been prov'd by our Divines beyond all reasonable contradiction, and how could it but be just, when the decrees of the Church of ROME control'd the Word of the Living GOD, and vyed with the Oracles of the Gospel. How and when the several Errours crept into that Church, is not Material to determine, it's enough we found them there, and it was GODS mercy not to give all the learned men of that age over to beleive a lye. But it's pretty to hear your Church-men talk of the novelty of our Religion, when it is evident to all the

understanding world , that our first Reformers began no new Religion , but desired only to keep to the Old. All their endeavour was to keep to the Religion of the Bible , and to cut off all superfluities , and things prejudicial to Salvation, and was there any hurt in that? They saw , that many things then in use in the Church of ROME were diametrically opposite to the Doctrines and practises of the Primitive Church, and they justly thought it their duty to reduce the Church to the antient pattern; the prouder Clergy of the Roman Church would not yield to it, but would have all their new fangles, and all their

additions to the Antient Symbols received as articles of Faith, though all perish'd, and the coat of Christ were rent into a thousand pieces; the more humble, and more moderate of the Clergy, saw the pride and insolence of the other, and trembled, and thus we and they parted, we kept to the old Religion, and your men chose the new,
 and much good it may do you with it, and pray Judge by this, which is the Schismatick Church, we or they?
 we that would have healed Israel, or they that would not be healed; so that it is not our Religion that began so lately as 150 years ago, about Luthers time, but it's

it's yours that commenced then; for you then embraced the new additions to the antient Catholick creeds with greater greediness, and were resolv'd to maintain that by bravado's, which you were not able to defend with Arguments. Its a very ordinary thing for people, who once incline to the Communion of the Roman Church to demand of us, before they go over, whither a person may be saved in that Church. The Charity and moderation our Divines usually express in their answer to this query, I am sensible hath done our Church some harm, whereas the Roman Priests, being bold in their uncharitableness, ness, and damning all that are out of their communion, make some weak people believe, that they must be in the right, because they are more daring in their asseverations. We have far greater reason to be peremptory in excluding the members of the Church of R O M E from Salvation, than they have to exclude us, for if that Church be guilty of Idolatry (as I see, your Divines find it a very hard task to answer the Arguments of our Learned men, that prove it) Those that are guilty of this crime may soon be resolved by the Apostle what their lot is like to be in another world ; for No Idolater, saith St. Paul, mean-

meaning one that lives, and dies so, shall inherit the Kingdom of God. 1 Cor. 6. 9 yet we are modest, and whatever the principles of that Church may lead men to, we hope, there may be many in that Church, that either, while they live in the communion of that Church, have an aversion from the dangerous, and Idolatrous practices of it, or sometimes before they die do heartily repent of the absurd, and unreasonable Doctrines, and worship, they have too long asserted, and complied with, and of such we cannot but entertain a very favourable opinion, and indeed I could name you some very famous men men both in France and Italy, who, though they have continued in the Communion of that Church, i. e. have not joyn'd themselves to any particular publick Protestant Church, yet have not approv'd of such things in the Roman Church, as manifestly obstruct mens Salvation, and though like Nicodemus they have not dared openly to avow their dislike of such Errours, for fear of danger, yet in their hearts they have abhorr'd them, and declared so much to their Friends, and intimate acquaintance. And though their seeming communion with a Church so Erroneous, cannot be totally excused, because it looks like

 her Errours, yet since we read of Joseph, that he was a Disciple of Christ secretly, and notwithstanding his not confessing Christ publicly, accepted of GOD, we hope such mens continuing in the external communion of the Roman Church is not a willful Errour, but rather a pardonable infirmity, a timorousness which hath nothing of malice in it, and therefore will not hinder them from Salvation.
 We know not what mercy GOD may shew to many poor people in that Church, who are invincibly Ignorant, and never saw a Bible, from whence they might rectify their

their mistakes, and do live honestly in this present world; but we must withal confess, that the Servant, who hath known his Masters will, and hath not done it, shall be beaten with many stripes, and whether those that have been enlightened in our Church, and have tasted the good Word of GOD, and cannot but see our Agreement with the Gospel, and after all this embrace the Errors of the Roman Church, whether these will be excusable at the last day, we justly doubt of; To live in great Errours is to live in Sin, but where that living in Errours is joyn'd with resistance of great light, and know.

knowledge, there the Sin becomes all crimson, which was but of a faint red before; And if this be the Character of Christs Friends to do whatsoever he commands us, then the inference is very easy, that those cannot be Christ's Friends, nor reign with him in Heaven, that wilfully leave undone, what they know he hath commanded, and set up a new Worship, which he hath nowhere commanded: Madam, had you never seen such a thing as the Scripture, you r going over to that Church might have deserved some apology, but when you were surrounded with the beams of that light which shines in darkness, as St. Peter calls the word, with all those rayes about you, to shut your eyes, and desperately to venture upon a Church, which enjoines men to live against some of Gods laws, as against Exod. 20. 5, 6. and Matth. 26. 27 &c. and consequently obliges them to prepare for GODS displeasure, this, I confess, is an action, which, as it favours of great willfulness, so I question, if you dye in't without serious repentance, whether the joys you hope for, will ever fall to your share. If your Churchmen do mean honestly, and do truly aim at the peace of Christendom, and in good earnest design the Union of men that profess the name of Christ, why will not they part with those Doctrines that are so great an offence, not only to all Protestants, but to Jews and Mahometans too? if that worshipping of Saints and Images be not necessary, but only useful, why will not they quit that Worship, which by their own pretences is needless, especially when they might do so much good by it; if the Cup was formerly given to the Laity, why will not they to effect the aforesaid Union restore it to the Laity? If the substance of the Sacrament, and the comfort arising from it may remaine entire, without obliging men to beleive a Transubstantiation, or Adoration

of the consecrated Wafer, why will not they for peace sake lay aside such Doctrines, which neither themselves, nor any creature understands? If Heaven and Hell are sufficient motives to a Holy life, why will not they for quietness sake renounce their Doctrine of purgatory, which by their own confession hath no ground in Scripture?

Madam, I have that charitable opinion of you, that if you had but taken a view of the Worship of the Church of ROME, as it is practic'd beyond Sea in places, where there is no fear of contradiction from any Hereticks, where they may freely and securely act according to their principles, principles, had you seen the mode of Worshipping the Virgin Mary at R O M E, or in Spain, or Italy, the sight of it would have certainly discourag'd you from embracing that Religion, which now you seem to be mainly delighted with, for indeed the Religion of the Church of R O M E at this time, if a man were to guess from that, which hath the greatest outward Veneration, is little else, then a Worship of the Virgin Mary. The very beggars beyond-Sea in begging of alms, beg more for the Virgin Marie's sake, then for Christ's sake. This, Madam, I know to be true, who am no stranger to forreign parts, parts, and I will assure you, that in those Cities or Towns, where both Papists, and Protestants have the free exercise of their Religion, you shall live Twenty years in a Town, before you hear that any Protestant is turned Papist, (so few charms are there in the Exercise of their Religion beyond Sea) but you shall not be above a year or two in such a Town, before you hear that several Papists are turn'd Protestants (such a force hath truth;) The Religion of the Church of ROME, as it is practis'd in England, lookes harmless. Now and then upon some great festival they shew you a Picture of the Virgin Mary, or or of some other Saint, and the honest Priest qualifies every Doctrine, makes the Errours soft, and plausible, and they dare not, living in a Protestant Country, serve the Host of Heaven, I mean Saints and Angels with all their appertenances as they do in places, where there are no Protestants to watch them.

Here their Religion seems to be without a sting, and is clad in the fleece of Sheep, but if you could but make a Voyage into Spain or Italy, I doubt not but you would see the Venome of it, and avoid it, and the only way not to be of the Church of ROME, would be to go to ROME, provided you do not go without your Bible.

In good truth that Church hath turn'd Christianity into a meer outward pomp and splendor, which ravishes the eye, but can never content a mans reason. The glistering Gold in their Temples, the curious Images of Saints and Angels, the numerons and Stately Altars, the mighty Silver Statues, the rich, and glorious vestments you see up and down in their Churches, strike the senses into a kind of ecstasie, and it must be sense only, for a considerate mind, that searches the inside of things as well as the outside, cannot be so easily gull'd and deceiv'd ; and this outward pomp they make not the least sign of the truth

of their Church, not remembering, that if this be a good signe, the Idolatrous people in Japan, and China, whose Temples are infinitely more shining, and glorious, will have a better Title to the true Church than they; I must confess, that in policy, and worldly craft, and cunning the Church of ROME exceeds ours, for they have not only turn'd the Spiritual Worship of the Gospel, into a sensual service, into outward Religious formalities, a thing strangely pleasing to flesh and blood, but they have shooes that will fit all sorts of feet, great and small, and have remedies for all distempers, and you may go to Heaven

in that Church either through the straight way, or through the broad, which you please, they can fit the Melancholly person, and the Jovial, they have Monasteries, and Nunneries, and severities to content the one, and know how to allow greater liberty to the other; they can either send a man to happiness through a tedious task of mortification, if he likes that method best, or help him thither by a quicker dispatch, by confession, attrition, and absolution upon a death bed, when the man can hold Sin and the world no longer: Live, or die, you cannot do amiss in that Church, for living you may be forgiven given, and after Death you may be pray'd out of Purgatory, sooner or later, according as you will spend money upon Masses, for gold doth strangely quicken these supplications.

Such a Church, Madam, you have espoused, and divorced your self from one that prefers the Wisdom of GOD, and of the Gospel before the Wisdom of the flesh, and glories in dealing plainly and honestly with all men, that keeps close to the Scriptures, and yet is not against those Pious customs of antiquity, which are not contradictory to the Scriptures, that generously maintains the prerogative of GOD, and gives no other Honour to Saints and Angels, but what may consist with the glory of her Creator, that hath made no new Articles of Faith, but keeps to the old, and thinks it Rebellion against GOD, to enjoin things as necessary to Salvation, which GOD never made so; that urges the strictest life, and encourages nothing, but what may promote true piety and devotion, that hath no more Ceremonies, but what are decent, and labours to free Religion at once from slovenliness and superstition, that secures the Right of Sovereign Princes, and Teaches her Children to live like good subjects and good Christians,

land though it be her misfortune, that too many of her pretended members live like Enemies of Christianity, yet that's not long of her Doctrine and Constitutions, but long of the stubbornness of men, who will not be reform'd by her Precepts; As no man blames Christ or his Apostles, because Judas was a Hypocrite or because Simon Magnus profess'd their Religion, so they betray great Ignorance and simplicity, that for the Monstrous impieties of many, that profess themselves members of our Assemblies despise and slight our Church, which in her principles is most averse from all such practices, a Church, which as, for mine own particular I have deliberately and premeditately embraced, and chosen, so, I hope, I shall never be so much forsaken of GOD or of my reason; as to quit it to become a Papist. I have not been altogether a careless observer of the several Christian Churches; dispers'd through the world. Desire of mine own Salvation hath made me take particular notice, what corruption there is in them, and what affinity they have with the Primitive Professors of Christianity; And I must freely confess upon a serious Examination of the Scripture, and the Fathers of the three first Centuries after Christ, that that from my heart I think, there is no Church this day in all the Christian world, be it Eastern, or Western, that in her principles and constitutions bears so much of the Image of the truly Primitive Church, or comes so near it, as the Church of England, a Church, which as your fore-Fathers had courage to burn for so I verily beleive, that he understands not her Innocent designs, and excellent rules, that dares not dy a Martyr in her cause.
